Starting Strong at St Edward's

A gentle beginning for confident learners

St Edward's COLLEGE
FOUNDED. 1929

The Early Years at St Edward's College provide a warm, nurturing and secure environment where young children feel safe, valued and excited to learn. These formative years lay the foundation for a lifelong love of learning, confidence and curiosity.

Learning in the Early Years is play-based and developmentally appropriate, carefully designed to support each child's social, emotional, physical and cognitive development. Through structured routines, guided exploration and purposeful play, children gradually develop independence, resilience and a positive sense of self within the school community.

Close and consistent communication with parents is central to our approach, ensuring a smooth and reassuring transition into school life. By building strong relationships with families from the very beginning, we create an environment of trust and continuity that supports children as they take their first confident steps on their educational journey.
